About These Classes:

These classes are based on the NASDA Urban League program that was suspended during COVID when it was unsafe to meet. Each challenge focuses on a different element of Urban Locating, such as encouraging independent searching with distance, tackling distraction challenges while the handler makes the call, working inaccessible or elevated hides. The Urban Locating Challenge classes have progressive levels through championships. We have also added the Urban Versatility titles for dogs earning the Urban Locating and Challenge titles at each level. Searches for all levels are conducted blind. Only one set up of each class is available. Handlers with more than one dog may have someone else handle other dogs. Classes are open to all dogs eligible to compete in Urban Locating I.
